

Author's warranties

The author warrants that the article is original, written by stated author/s (in any language), has not been published before, contains no unlawful statements, does not infringe the rights of others, is subject to copyright that is vested exclusively in the author and free of any third party rights, and that any necessary written permissions to quote from other sources have been obtained by the author/s.

It follows from the above mentioned warranties:

Author/ Authors:

- The authors of the article submit the results of the original research, as well as the input data in the article. Authors declare that their article is original.
- If the authors of the article use parts of the works of other authors, they appropriately quote them; if it is necessary, from the obtained permission of the original authors to quote the part taken over. Information that authors have obtained privately, such as personal interview, correspondence and other are, is used with the author's consent to the source of this information.
- The author's article is limited to those who have made a significant contribution to creating an article. Alternatively, others, who participated in certain essential aspects of the article, such as language editing is, are given in acknowledgements.
- The corresponding author has ensured that all co-authors saw and approved the final version of the article and agreed to submit this article for publication in the EGRSE journal. The authors of the article carefully consider the order of the authors at the time of the article submission; the number and order of the authors are final and unchanging.
- The authors claim that they did not submit the article in more than one journal at the same time.

The editors:

- Chairman and members of the editorial board form guidelines for publishing.
- The editor in chief of EGRSE will place current formal guidelines (Instruction for authors) in cooperation with the website administrator on the CAAG website.

- Chairman (members) of the editorial board will nominate two opponents for scientific review of the submitted article. In the event that one of the reviews is negative, the editors will determine the third opponent.
- The editor in chief denotes the necessary edition of the text or figures and sends denoted manuscript to the chairman.
- Chairman will send the opponent's reviews together with edited article from the editor in chief to the corresponding author.
- The editor in chief shall ensure the final edition of the article so that it meets the publishing requirements. The editor in chief will prepare articles for publishing of article on the CAAG website and for publishing on an electronic medium.
- By the end of May of the current year, the chairman of the editorial board will place the planned content of the year on the CAAG website.
- The editors will be assigned the unique number "DOI".

Note: Please print this document and sign it; then send this document to the Editorial Board Chairman (e-mail is on web).

Date:

Signature of responsible author: